

JuryCall is an electronic juror information display solution that automates the juror selection process. By integrating with the court's jury management system, JuryCall monitors can display potential jurors' names and where they are to report. The displays will show the appropriate subset of jurors at each step throughout the jury selection process.

While waiting in the jury assembly area, JuryCall can show a judge's message, live news feeds, or important court information. Patrons waiting in the jury assembly area can view commercial grade displays in the waiting room showing juror name, a judge's message, live news feeds, and other important court information.
